

ASK YOURSELF:

Can I truly be objective about my strengths and weaknesses?

Am I as confident as I should be, and am I challenging myself and my way of thinking about my future?

In spite of an outstanding track record, have I fully realized my potential?

Most of us would have a hard time saying 'YES' to all or even one of these questions. That's why individuals, including professional athletes, award-winning singers and actors and CEO's of the largest corporations turn to coaches to help them define their unique talents and skills, offer feedback and provide support. Our clients have found, as numerous studies have established, that coaching makes people measurably more effective in reaching and surpassing their goals.

For over 20 years, RDS has provided executive coaching and leadership training to individuals, executives and entrepreneurs seeking to become more effective in their professional and personal lives. Our coaches combine advanced knowledge of the complexities of organizational behavior and the science of executive coaching to provide leaders with fresh perspectives and practical experience that results in greater personal awareness, improved performance, enhanced relationships and increased job satisfaction. Our coaching plans are tailored to each individual's specific needs. While our methodology is time-tested, it is in the trusted partnerships we build with our clients that true results can be achieved.
